

Since teaming up in the fall, 2005, Robert & Cailin have put together an eclectic mix of jazz, blues, pop, light rock and country for duo or band to entertain audiences. They continue to add new material to their repertoire and are seen regularly around the Lower Mainland. Robert & Cailin are currently working on original material which they will bring to the stage and recording studio soon.

Robert Campbell - vocals/piano/keyboard Playing piano and Hammond organ since age 6, Robert attained Grade 8 in the Western Board certification and attended Grant McEwan College for a year before going on to play and travel with rock bands after which he returned to college to complete his second year. By 1986, Robert was at music full time again playing country music with the likes of Rocky Swanson, Patricia Conroy, Susan Jacks & Buddy Knox as well as a host of other artists. Robert continues to play in the Vancouver area doing pop, blues, R&B and country – in bands and solo.

Cailin Green - vocals/guitar Cailin has been singing since the age of 11, having begun her vocal training in choral groups, and has studied voice with various teachers over the years, experimenting with different genres. Cailin has since appeared in numerous musical theatre productions, choral works, benefit concerts, music reviews, country/rock bands and recording for radio commercials. She also plays acoustic guitar, acts and dances, and has recently directed and produced several musical productions and plays for community theatre.

The Band

Robert and Cailin perform as a duo or with a band. The following musicians are the best of the best and have worked as an ensemble for many years.

Simon Jarrett - lead guitar

A professional guitarist originally from the UK and graduate of the Guitar Institute in LA where he studied with guitar legend, Scott Henderson, Simon is a versatile session musician and performs weekly throughout the Lower Mainland. Often called on to play rock, blues, pop and country, Simon also plays jazz and fusion, writing and performing his own compositions in the Simon Jarrett Band.

Greg Stuart - drums/vocals

Greg has played drums professionally for 30 years with the likes of Fabian, Bo Diddley, and twice on tour with Frank Mills. Having played extensively on television, radio and in the studio, and 5 years playing exclusive special events for the Canadian Pacific Hotel chain, he is an accomplished songwriter and lyricist and winner of the 1997 B.C.C.M.A. Talent on Tape song writing competition.

Robby Marr - bass/vocals

Playing professionally since 1987, Rob has performed with some of the best including The Keith Bennett Band, Simon Jarrett Band, Crosswind featuring Jennie Emery, the Payolas featuring Paul Hyde, and most recently, Billy Dixon's Soul Train Express. Rob studied electric and acoustic bass at Capilano College where he was part of the national award winning big band. He plays all types of music, teaches privately and offers Jazz Combo workshops at local high schools.

Steve Hilliam - tenor sax

Steve is a much in-demand session and live player in Vancouver and is an original member of the BigDawg Band. He has recorded and toured internationally with Colin James' Little Big Band and is currently writing music, arranging horn charts, performing and recording with the BigDawg Band.
